THE

Hoo-Hoo March,

By No. 1050.

Dedicated to the SUPREME NINE.

The Only Authorized Music of the Order.

No better advertisement for the Order could be had than to have this piece of music become one of the popular airs of the day.

The price of the music is 40 cents per copy, and will be sent post paid upon application to the Scrivenoter.

The Practical Side.

It is, or should be, read by several thousand business men who employ labor in many varied forms, and it can be made of great value in giving practical application to Hoo-Hoo's central theme of helping one another. It is hoped the department will receive very careful attention each issue.

He Had A Good Time.

"If you want to have fun, go to Florida, go to Florida, and stop at the palace near the Reggio gate." So said Frank Johnson, Vicegerent Snark of the State of Florida for the administration of the gentle rule of the somber prince with the eyes of yellow. So also said H. L. Blanchard, mermaid drum major and dispenser of hospitality upon land and on sea. So say I, once a Seer, once a Senior Hoo-Hoo, once a Snark of the Universe, but now just a little black kitten, with a small "k," basking in a room full of south windows and warm sunshine, loling in "Just Po' James," with all the paraphernalia of past honors filed away in the Gray Closets of the Sacred Archives. Nothing makes so good a soldier as to occasionally rest from his epaulets. Pensacola Bay—dear old blue rolling foam of the waters of the sea—took charge of my Hoo-Hoo epaulets on Wednesday, April 21. It made me forget the Emblem of Revelation, except in the sense that I felt that I was now certain on whom it would descend, and was glad and wanted the descent to be ever so swift. But now that I am serenely convalescent on this first Sunday after Easter, and the balmy Alabama breezes make molian music as they sift through the straw of the pines, I know that it was all for the best, and that the uniform of past honors will fit better, and the Nine Points of the Star of Hoo-Hoo scintillate brighter than ever before.

Here's to Captain and Cook,
To the Ship and the Crew;
And, Great Mr. Shark,
Here's obeisance to you.

To those of the firm earth and of Hoo-Hoo, if you are ever invited to the Land of Flowers, go, and expect great joy; for it will be yours. It could not be otherwise in the land of great men and beautiful women, but soft, leave your Annins clothes at home. But here are the don'ts. Don't walk the deck like a pirate; don't tell the captain you have been shipwrecked, but never sensick; don't, you miserable, land lubber, make an arrangement to go to sea just in order to catch the other fellow; but, rather, sit quietly amid ships, and do not try to balance on yard arms.

Here's to Captain and Cook,
To the Ship and the Crew;
And, Great Mr. Shark,
Here's obeisance to you.

Yours,

PLAIN NO. 2.

For the Good of the Order.

By BOLING ARTHUR JOHNSON.

Paper I.

Beginning with this issue of the "Bulletin," there will be offered under this head for as many months as it pleases the editor to print, and a few people in Hoo-Hoo to read, many suggestions for the good of Hoo-Hoo. Not to fill space will these things be printed, nor to please any individual, or any number of individuals—neither in the condemnation of an individual (but if in condemnation or in compliment, rather in the condemnation of ideas, or compliment of those thoughts which have done good)—but from inception to finish always for Hoo-Hoo, the impersonal, the Black Prince of Good Fellowship and Health and Happiness and Long Life; and that is the text for the good of Hoo-Hoo.

At Kansas City, during the closing hours of the annual concatenation of 1894, there was made the House of Ancients, to prepare the archives of the Order, to look after the archeological lore of Hoo-Hoo, and to (without it being made any part of a printed line) prepare a "Monitor of Work" for the instruction of Hoo-Hoo. All of the signs had not been propitious until this day below written.

Hoo-Hoo has had its formative years. It has been in long clothes and swaddled about; and it has passed mumble-peg and marbles and boyhood, and is now picking out a vocation. There are so many paths for the youth! They are all flower-bordered, and run straight ahead to glory—for the youth; but if there be eleven paths, there be ten of them wrong; if there be one hundred, yet, with all these chances, there is but one which is right. Now let us—when we are great, big, lusty, almost five thousand strong—just tarry a bit by the wayside and reason together.

The writer does not propose to do all of this talking, but will endeavor to stir up so many divers and sundry plans and ideas that from chaos may come order, and the great army in numbers be an army of strength; for, be it known, massiveness is not always strength. David slew Goliath, and even Samson slept once at the wrong time.

These talks will not be done to the accompaniment of the sawing of coffin boards, nor shall there be in the air of it the dank smell of winding sheets or the death fog of grave dust. We will discuss it all cheerfully. Only weddings and christenings and concatenations should be held on time; funerals may be postponed.

From all this discussion which is to follow, of which this brief of intent is only a sort of rough sketch—from this discussion there shall as surely rise the monitorial work which will place Hoo-Hoo in first rank among unique, purposeful organizations as it is certain that the sun is now setting in a clear, blue, western sky, and "the warmth of its beams nurses the hearts of all with the same fond grasp." There will be discussed the work of each officer, and suggestions as to strengthening each part; talk concerning the ritualistic work, couched only in such terms as the initiated can understand; plans for substantial charities; information concerning the origin of the Order which has never before been given out; plans suggested to instruct the kittens in the work, so that it may never again be said that in all the Order there are not nine members who can repeat their respective parts of the ritual in a concatenation; a very great many suggestions about keeping up the interest; many reasons mentioned why membership extension may not mean additional strength; really too many things to catalogue; but in all there will not be a word of politics. In a glorious republic like our own politics does not have to be nurtured under blue glass. Enough of politics will grow up voluntary. Politics needs no seedtime, and always in the fields there can be heard the whetting of the scythes for the harvest of politics. Any suggestion offered will be done as tersely and as much to the point as possible; and there is already a gymnasium open, the column of "The Bulletin," where differences of opinion may be aired. Nothing except death and lack of space in "The Bulletin" will stop this series of articles now. It has been quietly simmering for a long time, and now we will open the kettle lid. The writer's address is Press Club, 133 Clark Street, Chicago, to which letters of protest or commendation may be addressed. This will be no washing of dirty linen, but just an ironing of rough-washed raiment.

Birmingham, Ala., April 24.

Some Personal Notes.

We are in receipt of a circular letter from the general freight office of the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern Railway Company, of Cincinnati, apprising us of the appointment of Mr. W. O. Paxton to be Commercial Agent of that line, with headquarters at Cincinnati. The same letter also makes mention of other appointments affecting members of our Order. Mr. Ed. Hart, Jr., of Louisville, becomes Assistant General Agent, while Mr. W. W. Blakely, Traveling Freight Agent, will hereafter work under the general agency at Louisville, instead of under the Cincinnati office. Mr. Hart's promotion was mentioned in a former issue of "The Bulletin," but this notice of Mr. Paxton's advancement will probably be news to many of his friends. It is doubtful if there will be any who will receive the news of the advancement of these three men with more pleasure than "The Bulletin." Both Mr. Paxton and Mr. Hart have heretofore been connected with fast freight lines, and in that connection have become widely and favorably known throughout the entire South.

Mr. E. E. Hudspeth, one of our most loyal brothers, who has heretofore been connected for several years with the Hope Lumber Company, of Hope, Ark., has branched out into a hardwood business of his own. The new firm is located at Hope, Ark. It is called the Big Horn Lumber Company, and starts out with most favorable prospects. Mr. Hudspeth is a good lumberman, a good worker, and we look to see much success achieved by his new venture. "The Bulletin" hopes it will prove a horn of plenty to Mr. Hudspeth, and that by no possible combination will he come out at the little end of it.

Florida Hoo-Hoo Day, Apr. 21—A Fragment.

Sailing Pensacola Bay,
On that glorious Hoo-Hoo Day,
Paced the Seer, with much to say,
As of yore;
Telling lubbers of the land
He himself is full of sand,
Cheering all the senesick gang
With his lore.

Proudly did the talking Seer
Scorn the foaming lager beer,
Gave the claret punch the sneer;
But—ah me!
Adam by the apple fell,
Pride sent Satan down to hell,
And Chowder drove the Seer pell mell
For the sea.

"Curtis, hold this aching head;
Would—O would!—that I were dead!"
Then the Seer the fishes fed.

Many moons shall wax and wane
Ere the Seer shall sail again,
With that yearning and that pain,
Down the bay;

And the fishes, in their glee,
Wonder reminiscently,
Praying every dawn shall see
A Hoo-Hoo Day.

KOOLEDGE.

Future Concatenations.

As we go to press, a concatenation is being held at Paducah, Ky., and Vicegerent Cunningham, of that State, will doubtless put another excellent batch of candidates to his honor roll for the year. We regret that we will not receive a report of this meeting in time to incorporate it in this "Bulletin." Quite a number of Nashville boys went up to see the fun.

Every traveling man and every Hoo-Hoo who can so arrange it is urged to be at Findlay, O., on the evening of Friday, May 7. Vicegerent Ben. Collins is going to hold a concatenation, and every man who has attended one of these recent Ohio meetings knows what that means. A press of business has prevented Mr. Collins from sending out notices to the individual membership throughout the State to attend this meeting; but wide publicity to the meeting has been given by the lumber papers, and he will no doubt have a good attendance. This concatenation will be followed in the course of a month by other meetings at Toledo, Cleveland, and Dayton. In other words, Mr. Collins is going to prosecute an aggressive campaign; and he should have the hearty cooperation of every member in the State.

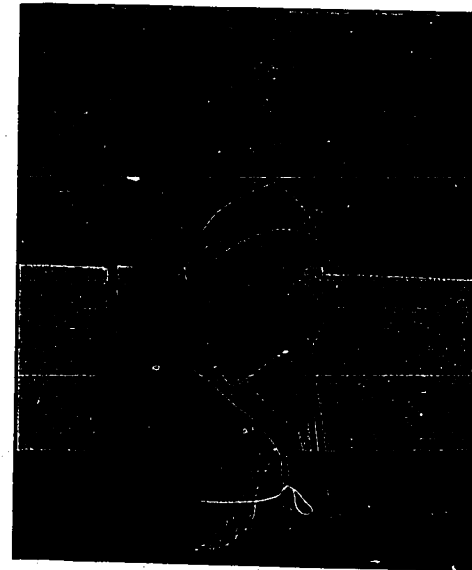

Mr. R. McCulloch, Vicegerent for North Dakota, has had some bad luck in connection with two concatenations he had expected to hold. He fixed the dates of April 15 and 16 for concatenations at Fargo and Grand Forks, respectively; but when the time rolled around, the whole section out his way was inundated. Practically, all the traveling men had been called in on account of the floods; and Mr. McCulloch wisely decided to postpone his meetings until the water subsided. He has a trunk, and these two concatenations will doubtless come off some time during May.

It is very probable that two good concatenations will be held during May at Alexandria and Shreveport, La. The meeting at Alexandria was duly advertised to take place April 10. An unfortunate misunderstanding about the trunk prevented the meeting. "The Bulletin" understands there is ample and excellent material for two concatenations in this part of Louisiana; and Mr. Wright, the Vicegerent, writes us that he is going to take it in.

Matrimonial.

Mr. Frederick J. Williams, No. 3069 of our Order, was married on April 20, at New Albany, Ind., to Miss Cora L. Williams. Mr. Williams is Contracting Agent for the Big Four Railroad, with office at 218 Fourth Avenue, Louisville, Ky. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles U. Williams. After May 5 the young couple will be at home to their many friends at 277 East Elm Street, Louisville. "The Bulletin" adds its congratulations to those of a host of friends of Mr. Williams, and unites with all his acquaintances in wishing the couple much happiness, health, and a Long Life.

Mr. George H. Grayson, of Arkadelphia, Ark., will be married at that place on Wednesday, May 26, to Miss Marie Carpenter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Carpenter. The groom is our efficient Vicegerent for Arkansas, and an officer of the Arkadelphia Lumber Company, at Daleville. This is clearly another instance of good fortune that comes from an official connection with Hoo-Hoo. Before the year is out we expect to have not a single bachelor in our official family. Mr. Grayson is a young man of sterling worth and character, and fully deserves the reward of the fair bride he has won.

FREED FROM CORRODING CARE.

Let Him Requiescat in Pace.

The following letter from Mr. Francis Rotch shows that he is carrying on an active campaign for Hoo-Hoo. It also shows that his predecessor in the Vicegerency has been freed from corroding cares. From the photograph he sends we judge the work of dispensing with Mr. Lewis was performed with peculiar thoroughness. The face of the "remains" bears a striking resemblance to the "Pharaoh of the Oppression," whose mummy—the only authentic one—now reposes in the Tennessee Museum of History at Nashville.

Seattle, Wash., April 13.—J. H. Baird, Scrivener, Nashville, Tenn.—Dear Sir: I send you inclosed photo of the past V. S., Mr. E. H. Lewis, as he appeared after he was properly embalmed at our last concatenation, held on March 27. After the concatenation ceremonies, a committee waited on Mr. Lewis and informed him that, according to the ancient custom of the Ptolemy, as he has passed from the light of his high station, it was necessary to preserve his mummy for the edification of succeeding generations. He was consequently wrapped in mummy cloth, alias gunny sacks, lighted candles placed at his head and feet, and, after the usual buck and wing dance around him, was strapped to a clear, vertical grain fir plank, and the accompanying photo taken. How would it look in "The Bulletin?"

We hold another concatenation at Whatecom on May 5.
Yours fraternally, FRANCIS ROTCH, V. S.

Mr. D. M. Angle Dead.

The following is a resolution adopted by a rising vote at the Houston Concatenation:

The Hoo-Hoo attendant upon the concatenation held at Houston on this Wednesday evening, April 14, deem it proper to express their sincere regret at the loss of our late associate, D. M. Angle, who, patient in prolonged suffering, departed this life on April 4. The deceased enjoyed the esteem of all lumber manufacturers and dealers and those connected with associated industries, an esteem commanded by his practice of fair dealing and his unvarying courtesy. They, therefore, resolve

1. That in the death of Mr. Angle the Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo has lost a worthy member, the lumber industry an energetic and upright agent, and society in general one whose virtues may be profitably emulated.

2. That the foregoing be published in "The Bulletin."

Some Comments on Concatenations.

The concatenation held at Houston on April 14 was one of the most successful and enjoyable ever held in the Southwest. Twenty-six men were taken in, and from the report in this issue it will be seen that they were the most desirable sort of men to have. Mr. Lyon, the Vicegerent, deserves credit for the way he worked up and carried through this excellent meeting. The Houston meeting was followed during the same week with another good meeting at Beaumont. Mr. F. W. Greer is entitled to the credit for working up this latter meeting.

This issue of "The Bulletin" contains quite a good deal of stuff about Brother Frank Johnson's "Hoo-Hoo Holiday" at Pensacola on the 21st. The excursion down the bay was a complete success. We understand the Gulf was just rough enough to make the boys enjoy the fish chowder and other toothsome delicacies provided for the occasion. A perusal of the remarks of "Plain No. 2" and a very fine poem by Brother "Cool-edge" may perhaps create the impression that the Gulf was a little too rough for comfort. Not so, however. We understand that the spectacle of Johnson falling a victim to just plain, plebeian sensikness was very exhilarating—better than any tranquil voyage could have been. In explanation of why he was not thrown overboard, as provided for in Brother Johnson's programme for the occasion, Mr. Coolidge says that he hid! We judge from this that Mr. Johnson must have pressed into service for this occasion the Great Eastern or some other vessel of about that tonnage. The idea of Coolidge hiding on board an ordinary ship is great. Perhaps he had written his poem, and the boys were afraid to provoke him lest he should read it to them.

Mr. Francis Rotch, Vicegerent for the State of Washington, in reporting his concatenation held on March 27, comments upon the fact that this was his first meeting, and that he intends to do better in the future. We cannot see from the reports we have received of the meeting how much improvement could be made. We have several letters from the Const speaking of the meeting as one of very great pleasure. The Scrivenoter wants to congratulate Mr. Rotch upon the excellent, businesslike way in which he sends in his report. Mr. Rotch is the right man in the right place.

A Great Club.

The following excellent report of the opening of the Hoo-Hoo Club at St. Louis is furnished us through the kindness of that loyal brother and all-round good fellow, Mr. George E. Watson:

St. Louis, April 22.—It was with much satisfaction that the Board of Trustees of the St. Louis Hoo-Hoo Club announced that the opening house warming would be held on the evening of April 19, and it was with much enthusiasm that a majority of the 160 St. Louis Hoo-Hoo gathered together on that evening to inspect the quarters and pass an enjoyable Hoo-Hoo evening.

The rooms at 7 1/2 North Broadway are elegant, and are in every way all that could be desired. There is a marble entrance with a plate glass door, on which is painted the emblem of the Order, which causes much comment from the passers on busy Broadway. The large reception room and general lounging room is on the second floor, and is luxuriously carpeted and furnished. It is the intention to hold concatenations in this room, as a fairly large class can be handled in it with ease. The controom is also on this floor. The billiard and card rooms are on the third floor, and are appropriately fitted up with all comforts necessary to such rooms. The pool table has already made itself very popular, and is in almost constant use. The cuisine is presided over by Henry Newmann, who left the St. Nicholas Hotel to go with the club, and who is well known as a leading local chef. The noonday meal is to be made one of the leading features of the club, and it will, without a doubt, make the St. Louis Hoo-Hoo Club the noonday headquarters for the local lumbermen, machinery men, and railroad men.

The opening was a success in every particular. The new clock had said "Hoo-Hoo" nine times before the fun commenced. It said it twice very weakly, when the kittens dispersed. The evening was whiled away with music, songs, and stories, and the two large punch bowls and the refreshments and cigars in the lunch room added their efforts toward increasing the Health, Happiness, and Long Life of those present. The troop of negro minstrels were not necessary to bring pleasure and good fellowship upon those assembled—only to increase their happiness. Every man present is now a firm believer in airships, as there were nine hovering in that quarter of the heavens during the whole evening.

It will be an object of the club to increase the interest in the Order, and also to increase the membership in this section. The constitution of the club provides for a committee on concatenations, which will be immediately appointed, and a concatenation arranged for the near future, as there is already a goodly list of candidates awaiting an opportunity to join the Order. The club is officered by Alex. H. Bohn, President; A. A. Poland, Vice President; J. A. Braun, Treasurer; George E. Watson, Secretary, who, together with W. E. Barns, S. P. MacConnell, J. W. Putnam, George W. Schwartz, and J. H. Steedman, form the Board of Trustees.

The New Hand-Book.

How to Secure It.

READ THIS CAREFULLY.

THE NEW HAND-BOOK is now ready to be mailed. It is too valuable to be carelessly sent out, and the expense is too great to have it registered. Intelligent compliance is, therefore, requested to the following instructions to secure the prompt and accurate exchange of the new for the old hand-book in the hands of all members.

The provisions under which the new book is to be sent out, as given in By-law No. 7, are as follows:

"Except in cases of new members, the Scrivenoter shall send out a hand-book only upon receipt of the corresponding one of the previous year, which returned book, upon receipt, shall be destroyed; but in case a member shall have lost his hand-book, and is unable to return it, he shall make certificate of that fact, that he has made all possible effort to secure repossession of it, and is not, nor has been since it left his possession, aware of its location or use. Upon receipt of such certificate, the Scrivenoter may issue a hand-book; but in case a member desires to replace a lost book with one of the same issue, making certificate as above, a charge of one dollar shall be made by the Scrivenoter."

Postage Required. Two cents is sufficient postage to return the old hand-book, if not too heavy wrapping paper is put around it. SEE THAT YOUR BOOK IS PROPERLY STAMPED.

Send Your Address. You may be a traveling man and absent for several weeks from your permanent address as given in the hand-book. To secure the new book promptly, write a postal when you mail the old book, giving, legibly, the address to which the new book should be mailed, to reach you promptly.

Effort will be made to send off the new book by first mail after old one is received. Each new book will be accompanied by a printed postal, upon which each man is requested to promptly acknowledge receipt of book.

Ask Your Brethren. It is very desirable that the new book should be in the hands of the entire membership as promptly as possible. It is therefore suggested that each Hoo-Hoo, during the next few weeks, ask his brother, not "Is it hot enough for you?" but "Have you got your new book yet?"

J. H. BAIRD, Scrivenoter.

The Delinquents.

The following men are delinquent for one or more years' dues, and have been left out of our handbook on that account. With many of them this delinquency is only a matter of oversight, and some of them are paying up every day. For this reason it was deemed best to continue the publication of the list. If you see your name in this list communicate with the Scrivener's office immediately. You can be reinstated into full standing without prejudice upon payment of amount of delinquency. Your name will be reinstated in the first supplement of amount of book, which will be issued in a few weeks.

Hoo-Hoo Beware!

Tomahawk, Wis., Apr. 28, 1897.—One F. P. Wentworth, 1493, formerly of this town, and "District Sealer" two years ago, is borrowing money from members of Hoo-Hoo and never returns same. Beware of him; he is not worthy.

Seeking Light.

The attention of the two Vicegerents for the Empire State has been called by letter to the following letters from a point in that State. Mr. Garretson is a manufacturer of lumber and would doubtless make a valuable member. It is to be regretted that the work in New York State cannot be more actively pushed. Several letters from prospective candidates have been received by "The Bulletin," and there is no doubt but that much valuable material in that State is only waiting to be gathered in. Mr. Garretson's letter is as follows:

J. H. Baird, Esq., Nashville, Tenn.—Dear Sir: Kindly advise me in regard to qualifications for membership to be the Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo, and whatever may be necessary for admission. I am, yours very truly, D. I. GARRETSON.
