Dear JIV Members

I'm sure you can all appreciate the uncertainty and frustration surrounding the current Covid-19 dilemma we are all facing as an organisation, and more so as a Global Community. I have been listening to all current information provided by our Government, and also constantly communicating with Malaysia in relation to our upcoming Convention and AGM.

After careful consideration and input from your JIV board members, I feel it pertinent to change the context of my last letter and advice to you. On the basis of information supplied in the last 24 hours, in relation to our Airlines basically shutting down most International services. Along with the PM's advice for Australians not to travel, and my personal belief that Australia may be most affected during our upcoming winter months, we feel it may be best to postpone the Convention further. I have been speaking with Clarence, and his advice is that the Hotel and other venues confirmed, will happily transfer our bookings for the rest of this year - but no guarantee of anything further. Therefore, the Board has voted and decided that we postpone to the last weekend of October, which we hope the extreme measures in place now will have been relaxed or completely diminished. As I have said all along though, this is a daily moving target and we are purely acting on the information to date.

So, we would like to propose a new date of October 29th - November 1st, and we hope that this may give you enough time to consider supporting this Convention and our 50th Anniversary year.

I thank you all again for your patience, understanding and input, during these uncertain times. The Board truly hopes that this is the last change, and we can all come together to celebrate this Milestone, and share our Individual stories relating to the dreaded "Corona Virus".

Health, Happiness and Long Life
